About Neal

Neal Bawa is the CEO and Founder of Mission10K and Grocapitus, two data-driven commercial real estate firms with a portfolio of 4,800+ units and over $660.4M in assets under management. His companies leverage advanced analytics to acquire or build large-scale properties for 1,200+ investors nationwide.

Known as the “Mad Scientist of Multifamily,” Neal teaches data-over-gut investing to an audience of 14,000+ students on Udemy, with 1,000+ five-star reviews. Each year, 5,000+ investors attend his webinars, hundreds join his boot camps, and his Facebook and Meetup communities reach tens of thousands.

Neal is a prolific speaker at real estate conferences and believes the future of commercial real estate lies at the intersection of PropTech, FinTech, and liquidity — creating a tradable asset class to rival the stock market.
